

International
Women's Day
Music

This week we are focusing on Electronic Music

International Women's Day is a great time to celebrate the incredible achievements of women in music. Did you know that women have been making music for centuries? Throughout history, women have composed, performed, and produced amazing music in every genre, from classical to pop.

But unfortunately, women have often faced discrimination and unequal opportunities in the music industry. That's why it's important to recognise and honour the many trailblazing women who have fought for change and paved the way for future generations. So let's celebrate International Women's Day by learning about the amazing women who have made a lasting impact on the music world!
