

Electronic Music

This week we are focusing on Electronic Music

Electronic music is music which is made with electronic equipment such as synthesizers or computers. Sometimes electronic music artists create special sounds using tape recorders too. A subgenre of electronic music is electronic dance music, or EDM. Electronic dance music is a form of electronica which is generally made with the intention of being danced to, making it generally club-friendly and often (but not always) up-tempo.

Some common electronic instruments include:

synthesizer

drum machine

sampler
