

Musical Theatre

This week we are focusing on Musical Theatre

Musical theatre is a kind of performance in a theatre. A work of musical theatre is called a musical. It uses acting, music, songs, and often dance. Some musicals (for example Les Misérables) have only a few lines of dialogue. Everything else is sung. It is usually a mixture of speaking and song. Music has been a part of drama since ancient times, but modern Western musical theatre emerged during the 19th century.
